WE SALUTE YOU

MISS E. O. KING

After a period of service beginning in 1917 and extending until the present year, Miss E. O. King, the senior class sponsor, librarian, and former teacher of English, completes nearly four and one-half decades of teaching boys and girls.

Because of her untiring efforts and her great contributions to the welfare of this class, previous senior classes, and the many students who have walked through the corridors of Moore High School, this 1963 Lion yearbook is dedicated to her.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. MABLE BOGGESS

For several years the late Mrs. Mable Boggess labored as a faithful member of the Moore High School Parent-Teacher Association in the capacity of chairman of the social committee and chairman of the membership committee. Because of her valuable contributions as a parent and patron of this school this page is set aside.

RICHARD LEE, Editor-in-Chief

The annual staff of the Senior Class proudly presents the 1963 edition of The Lion. To compile this yearbook we have gone into the depths of our memories and imaginations to recapture the events of our senior year. We have included those thrilling moments and somber reflections that will linger with us.

Our yearbook theme, "Fishing for Prosperity," expresses our attitude toward our future realizations which we believe will require the patience and faith of the resourceful fisherman.

Like the fisherman, we will carry the knowledge and skills with which our dear teachers have equipped us during our twelve years in the public schools to achieve success. To the administrative staff and faculty we say humbly, "Thank you."

As yearbook editor, I wish to thank all of my capable assistants and advisors for the cooperation they have given me to make this publication possible.

Richard Lee

Editor-in-Chief

STANDING:

Mr. Gordon Rountree; Dr. L. V. McNamee, Assistant Superintendent; Dr. Tom L. Husbands, Mr. A. R. Downing, Superintendent; Dr. Abner McCall; Mr. Vic Anderson, and Mr. J. E. Crews, Business Manager.

SEATED:

Mr. Peeler Williams, President; Mrs. M. M. Macrae; Mr. Emmett L. Yant; and Mrs. Ruth Ferguson.

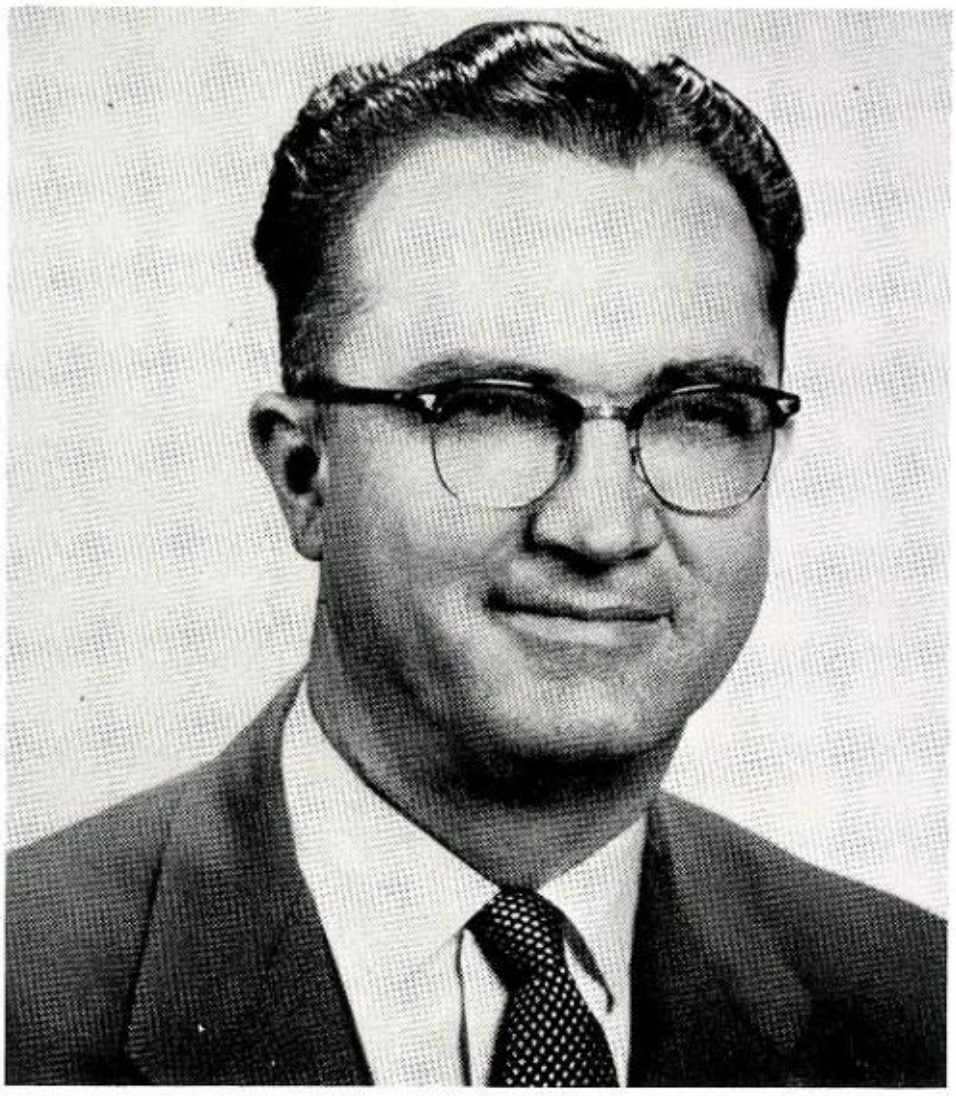
SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

The program of learning that you have followed for the past twelve years has been prepared and arranged to provide practice and study for the changing years that lie ahead of you. Not only have you been provided with a working knowledge of many of the basic skills, but also you have been given a general picture of what your place may be in the modern world that you hope to help improve.

It is my belief that you will accept tomorrow's challenge and by your efforts cause all things to prosper in America.

Avery R. Downing
Superintendent

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE



You are maturing into womanhood and manhood in one of the most exciting and, at the same time, frightening periods in history. It is an exciting period due to a veritable explosion of knowledge and invention. It is a frightening era because man has created instruments of destruction that can literally devastate humanity.

Our task, then, as American citizens is to so improve ourselves, our drives, our interests, our values, so that the result will be the using of the marvelous discoveries of science, technology, social science, mathematics, and psychology to create a brave new world in which strife, discord, and destruction will succumb to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

Assistant Superintendent

Dr. L. V. McNamee

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The 1963 Lion is a very distinguished successor to the yearbooks which have been developed by other senior classes. It is full of the happenings which have taken place during the past year. It will bring to mind the many pleasant memories. It will also remind us of some sad occasions.

The Editor-in-Chief and his staff as well as the advisors are to be commended for producing such an excellent book. It is well-planned and it carries the message which is so beautifully portrayed in the theme, "Fishing for Prosperity."

This class as well as the whole school can join in the full realization of such a motto.

Congratulations are extended to all who have worked to make this yearbook the great success that it is. The administration, parents, the members of the faculty, members of the senior class, and the entire student body are to be commended.

1963 SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1957, a class of 228 boys and girls from the Waco elementary schools entered Moore High School. Our seventh and eighth grade years were eventful.

Before long, we were Freshmen - classified at last!!! The climax of this year was Junior High Promotion when Robert Lee and Bernice Hamilton received the First Place American Legion awards and Robert Harbert and Laura Estelle second place.

Our sophomore year is one that we will never put behind us. In too many instances, our failures outweighed our successes.

Juniors - one step from the top. This year our class presented a very successful Cavalcade of Stars. Through the overwhelming ticket sales, the class was able to present office furniture as its class project. Then came the prom, "Fantasy of the Sea" with the junior class as host.

SENIORS - What a distinction! By this time our class had gained recognition locally, state-wide, and even nationally. Laurice Mosley won third place in the Voice of Democracy Contest. In state competition, Ruth Jackson won first place in the 50 yard dash at the Inter-scholastic League Meet. Chesley Smith, who earned for himself the title, class artist, won first place and a $75 Savings Bond in the National Safety Poster Contest.

Our class, now of only 137, has received considerable recognition for its leadership in the Student Council, and many other campus organizations. Our athletes leave outstanding records in the "Mighty Lions" Hall of Fame. As graduation draws near, we are filled with pride for even the small things we have done to add credit to dear Moore High School.
